

Butler-Bremer Communications has hired Huntel Engineering to do the design work for the fiber optic system in Denver. There will be three Huntel Engineering cars with Nebraska license plates and flashing lights driving slowly around Denver streets for the next month. Don't be alarmed, they are doing design work for the Fiber Optic System.